LEGAL BASES OF DATA PROCESSING
• Reasons of public interest: implementing the safety protocols to reduce the risk of transmission, pursuant to article 1.7(d) of the Prime Ministerial Decree of March 11, 2020, and specifically: Shared Protocol of March 14, 2020; Protocol of April 24, 2020, and any subsequent amendment and addition
• Statutory obligation: art. 32 of the Italian Constitution; art. 2087 of the Italian Civil Code; Italian Legislative Decree no.81/2008 (specifically, art. 20)

PURPOSES OF DATA PROCESSING
• Preventing the spread of the COVID-19 infection
• Safeguarding human health on the venues of any sporting event organised by the Data Controller
• Collaborating with Public Authorities and, specifically, with Healthcare Authorities

COLLECTED DATA
1. Real-time body temperature measurement, without recording or retention, except for what is described in point 2, below;
2. Self-declaration about the exposure to risky circumstances for Covid-19 infection, including data about the subject's health, indicating for instance if the subject has had a fever over 37,5 °C or flu-like symptoms, is (not) coming from an area considered at risk, or has (not) been in contact with anyone who has been confirmed with the COVID_19 virus;
3. In the event that the subject is denied access, their identifying data and the recording of the information provided in the self-declaration form, due to which the subject had their access denied, will only be collected if required to document the reasons that prevented the subject from accessing the premises and the venue of the event.

Consequences of refusal to consent to data provision or collection
Data are provided or collected via direct measurement on a voluntary basis. However, should a subject refuse to provide their data, or to have their body temperature measured, they will be denied access to the event venue and to all the premises under the management of the Data Controller.

RECIPIENTS
Data can be disclosed to the controller and processor, to the subjects appointed to process personal data and, specifically, to the medical personnel in charge of protecting human health on the event.
The Data Controller will not process any specific and detailed healthcare data (e.g. regular body temperature measurement and recording, acquisition of negative/positive COVID-19 swab test results, past and current medical history).
Data are not disclosed or communicated to third parties beyond the specific regulatory provisions (e.g. upon request of Healthcare Authorities to trace back any contact cases with a worker who was confirmed with the COVID-19 virus). Data may be disclosed to Public Authorities, where required by the current regulations.
Data shall not be transferred abroad, and shall not be used for purposes of automated decision-making or profiling.

Retention period
Personal identifying data, as well as temperature readings above the threshold established by the Authorities are only recorded where required to document the reasons that prevented the subject from accessing the premises managed by the Data Controller. If so, such data will only be retained until the specific requirement has been fulfilled and, in any case, at the latest by the end of the state of emergency, as established by the competent public authorities.
In all other cases, the data collected shall be retained for no longer than is necessary for the Data Subjects to access the structures managed by the Data Controller, and in any case for no longer than 14 days after being collected, for tracing purposes as required by the Healthcare Authorities.
Personal data, including sensitive personal data, may be retained for a longer period to exercise the rights of defence in cases of controversies, within the statute of limitation of such rights.

MODALITIES FOR THE EXERCISE OF THE RIGHTS OF THE DATA SUBJECT
In specific cases, Data subjects have the right to obtain access to their full personal data, the rectification or the erasure of such personal data, the restriction of processing or the right to object to processing (articles 15 and following of the EU GDPR).
Each data subject shall have the right to lodge a complaint with the relevant Data Protection Authority (art. 77 of the EU GDPR), and shall have the right to an effective judicial remedy (art. 79), where they consider that the processing of their personal data under this Policy infringes the EU General Data Protection Regulation 2016/679.
